Well, a few thousand years ago, King Solomon described the life of her husband. Better to dwell in a corner of a housetop, than in a house shared with a contentious woman. (Proverbs 21:9) Better to dwell in the wilderness, than with a contentious and angry woman. (Proverbs 21:19) A continual dripping on a very rainy day and a contentious woman are alike. (Proverbs 27:15) I remember reading those Proverbs when I was much younger, and I determined then that I would avoid a contentious bride at all costs. When I was dating my bride to be, I consciously assessed the risk that she would be contentious after we were married, and I concluded, with a high level of confidence, that the risk was exceedingly low. With that hurdle out of the way, we got married. Soon after our honeymoon, I began to observe unmistakable signs of contentious behaviours,...
